

Introductory Flight Lesson:

Welcome to Air Ventures, PDK. The introductory flight lesson is essentially Lesson #1 in our training syllabus. It is a 1 hour flight designed to let an aspiring pilot get airborne and feel what it's like to be at the controls of an aircraft. No experience or prior ground training is required. Your certified flight instructor will be in command at all times, assuring the safety of the flight and handling the details while you sit back and enjoy the freedom that only aviation can provide. Your participation level is entirely up to you and will be discussed in detail prior to the flight with your instructor.

Flight Overview:

- A brief discussion of the preflight action that pilots go through before every flight.
- A thorough preflight inspection of the aircraft.
- A safety briefing prior to engine start and taxi.
- On the way out to the runway, a final systems check will be performed, known as a "run up".
- Once airborne, you and your instructor will fly the airplane out to the practice area located to the north and east of the Atlanta area.
- Upon arrival to the practice area, you will have the opportunity to really get the feel of the aircraft during a series of climbs, turns and descents. Your level of involvement is entirely up to you.
- Time flies as they say and before you know it you will be on your way back to PDK for landing.
- Upon taxiing in and securing the aircraft, you and your instructor will "debrief" the flight, discussing the day's events and plans for the future.

Overall, the flight is an introduction to the world of general aviation. It is an opportunity at a limited cost to experience the thrill and freedom of aviation while under the watchful eye of a trained professional. If you think that flying might be for you then this first flight can be counted towards the flight time that is required by the FAA to obtain your Private Pilots License.
